COURT CHRONICLE.

Acquittals by Two Hawaiian Juries An Order Dissolved.

Judge Cooper has issued an order dissolving the temporary injunction in the case of Walter C. Peacock vs. Samuel C. Allen and others. The order is consented to by Kinney, Magoon, Peterson and Hatch, attorneys for the respective parties.

The native jury that tried Sam Kui for che fa gambling, before Judge Whiting, returned a verdict of not guilty, three dissenting.

The trial of D. Kekona before Judge Cooper, on the same charge, was continued from yesterday to give time for the production of che fa tickets that were missing. It was resumed this morning and resulted in a verdict of not guilty, three dis-

Before Judge Cooper this morning Mr. Peterson presented the mother through whose hands all news items tion previously reported to quash the indictments against H. F. Poor. Mr. Hatch was present for the Gov-ernment. The Court reserved the question for the Supreme Court.

No business was despatched at this house, as also term before Judge Whiting this at his neighbors'. Witness did not morning, owing to a general unreadiness of parties. Owing to the absence of Prof. Lyons, a material witness, some liquor cases cannot be tried. The only remaining cases on the Hawaiian jury criminal calendar are those of Mahelona, opium in possession, and J. Kanui, perverting erument of Guatemala, which ustice in letting a prisoner escape while he was on duty as a guard.

At 2:10 this afternoon Attorney-General Smith said he was not prepared to go on with either of these cases to-day, and he therefore asked for a continuance.

Mr. Ashford, saying he supposed if continued the cases would pro-bably be nolle pros'd, consented and the cases went over for the present. The Attorney-General informed the Court that Mr. Ashford had requested a continuance till next term of the case of Susie Nelson, stewardess of the S. S. Australia, charged with smuggling. He was reluctant to give his consent; it would be dif-ferent if it were the captain or other condition of the country, food, etc.,

EXAMINATION FOR LIBEL.

Evidence Against Johnstone in the District Court.

The libel suit against Arthur Johnstone, editor of the P. C. Advertiser, was begun in the District Court at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon before Judge Robertson. There was a small attendance in the court-

Mr. Paul Neumann was the first witness on the stand. His evidence was in connection with the currency of Guatemala, and the pay of the Japanese immigrants, which was to be $10 in U.S. gold coin, or its equivalent in the currency of the country.

Mr. H. M. Whitney testified he was manager of the Hawaiian Gazette Co., which corporation published the Advertiser. Arthur Johnpassed

Mr. L. J. Levey stated that he had read the article in Saturday's issue of the paper in question, headed "He Has Been There." The paper know of any other Captain Fergu-

Captain W. H. Ferguson, the plaintiff in the case, deposed that he arrived here on June 13th of this year, as general agent for Japanese immigration for the Govcountry he left in February last. The witness saw the article in Mr. Neumann's office about 9 o'clock Saturday morning, and noted its contents. He had gone to the Advertiser office and inquired after "Antone Cloys," the writer of the article. He told Editor Johnstone that he thought the article libellous, and if he didn't locate Cloys, he would hold the paper responsible. Johnstone replied that he thought the letter untrue, but as Cloys had stated he had been there a number of years and had consented to append his name,

The case is still on. Charles Creighton for Captain Ferguson; A. S. Hartwell for Arthur Johnstone.

"Brace Up"

Is a tantalizing admonition to those who at this season feel all tired out, weak, without appetite and discouraged. But the way in which Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the tired frame and gives a good appetite, is really wonderful. So we say, "Take Hood's and it will brace you up."

For a general family eathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills.

make from an artificially produced GUM almost as elastic as INDIA RUBBER, which, when reduced by certain volatile solvents to the consistency of an oil, can be mixed with all pigments, and used in the same manner as linseed oil.

It resists water, acids, alkalies, heat and cold and atmospheric influences. It lasts longer, gives a richer gloss, covers better and makes pigments more brilliant than the purest and best linseed

It possesses the remarkable property of "covering" with much less pigment than any other oil. It also mixes in larger proportions with varnishes and improves their working, lasting and wearing properties.

From the Manager of Paauhau Plantation Co., Hamakua, Hawaii.

WM. LETTS OLIVER, Esq., Manager American Lucol Co., San Francisco.

A year ago I used some of the oil manufactured by your Company to paint one of our Plantation buildings, at the same time painting adjoining buildings with paints mixed with American and English Linsed Oils. The paint was mixed and applied by a convetent workman. seed Oils. The paint was mixed and applied by a competent workman.

The building painted with Lucol Oil retains its original appearance, while those on which Linseed Oil was used faded some time ago, the paint becoming chalky. As this Plantation is on the weather side of the Island, and the climate exceptionally trying on Paint, I consider the above to be as thorough a test as any to which your as thorough a test as any to which your Oil can possible be subjected, its superior-ity being so apparent. I take pleasure in recommending the Lucol Oil to all users of
